

five persons are numbered among the slain was even more spectacular. The dead include Major P. C. Lester of the hospital corps, two unidentified strikers; Henry Floyd and George Bock. Private O. L. Wilmouth, Private Glen Miller and Lieut. Scott were wounded.

Two hundred militiamen, under Colonel Edward Verdeckburg, participated. Their lines extended three miles along the "hog back ride" west of Walsenburg, where the strikers were entrenched.

The fighting continued through the afternoon and until 9 p. m., when a truce was arranged and the troops on the ridge were withdrawn by Colonel Verdeckburg. This ended fifty-six hours of almost continuous fighting at Walsenburg.

According to Walsenburg dispatches, the strikers on the ridge were commanded by Donald MacGregor, a former Denver and Chicago newspaper man.

New York, April 30.—Picketing of the offices of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the Standard Oil Company at 26 Broadway was resumed today by the Colorado strike "mourners," who appeared during the morning, wearing crepe as they did yesterday, and establishing a silent patrol in front of the building.

Five men acted as pickets. They were headed by Leonard G. Abbott, president of the Free Speech League. Later in the day it was said Mrs. Upton Sinclair and Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain would join a squad of pickets.

New York, April 30.—Continuing the protest against the Colorado strike situation which was started yesterday by the picketing of the offices of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Upton Sinclair today refused to pay a $3 fine imposed for obstructing the sidewalk in front of 26 Broadway and when sentenced to six days in jail declared a hunger strike. Miss Elizabeth Freeman and Miss Dolna Lietner, who were arrested with Sinclair, also chose to go to jail rather than pay the small fine.

LOCAL LABOR BODY SENDS $100 TO COLORADO MINERS

Some big questions were taken up at the meeting by the executive board of the Chicago Federation of Labor last night. The telegram from Colorado unions asking the C. F. of L. to send guns and ammunition were before the board. Questions raised were:

To what extent does President Wilson have power to seize the Colorado mines and operate them through the Federal government, thus bringing peace to a district that has been torn with war for eight years?

What are the rights of Chicago unions in the shipment of arms and ammunition to distressed unions in other parts of the country where lawful government has failed to give them protection?

The sum of $100 from the federation's emergency fund was voted for Colorado union miners. President John Fitzpatrick was instructed to send this telegram:

"We are sending $100 for the protection and support of the miners and their families until lawful government is restored in the state of Colorado. Your report of brutality of the Rockefellers and militia will be acted upon at the meeting of the Chicago federation next Sunday."

WHAT DO YOU MEAN JACK ROBINSON?

It's not because he was the "fetch-and-carry" man of George III that Jack Robinson has a place in history. The king's lackey became historic when Sheridan in one of his parliamentary debates charged a member of parliament with "corrupt practice." To the challenge to name the man accused, Sheridan retorted, "I could name him, sir, as soon as you could say Jack Robinson." He not only silenced his challenger but handed Jack Robinson's name down to posterity.
